NUMBER 3.

A VISIT TO GRAYNE, FREDONIA AND DYCUSBURG.

On Our Way Were Proud to Find the Crops Looking Well and Some Wheat in The Shock

On Friday evening just in time for supper we drove into Dycusburg one of the oldest, and at one time, one of the most prosperous towns in Crittenden county. Having heard my good father speak of the town and the friends of his early life, who lived there sixty-five years ago, who with him have long since passed to their reward, I felt a strong desire to visit the town, whose people and the high class of farmers surrounding it are giving such loyal support to my paper.

It is a picturesque old town, on a bend of the beautiful Cumberland and full of as big hearted, loyal citizens as ever lived under the flag of the proud old Commonwealth. And while the town has met with many reverses, we feel that the God who has the power to take away can as easily give and with the high class of citizenship and business men, she will soon, more than regain her old prestige as a business point.

The merchants of Dycusburg have stood the test of two fearfully destructive fires in the last few years; one destroying 17 business houses and the other 11 and in spite of all this the town is rapidly being rebuilt and in a few years will have the old town in new garb, with the flag of peace and prosperity waving to the breeze from off the beautiful Cumberland.

Notwithstanding all the reverses striking the noted old town, we name the following business houses receiving a nice trade:

J. C. Bennett, Dealer in Staples and fancy groceries, Glassware, Tinware, etc. Also serving delightful cold drinks. Mr. Bennett is a clever gentleman and a safe business man.

Dycus Bros., have a nice store and sell Staple and fancy Groceries, cigars tobacco and post cards. They also dispense soft drinks and are enjoying a splendid trade.

Yancey Bros., are proprietors of a splendid Dry Goods business and are enjoying an enviable trade, won by fair dealing. They keep a high grade of fine goods that show a care for their trade that is appreciated.

J. D. Jones is proprietor of a large Hardware business and is receiving a liberal patronage.

J. C. Griffin is owner of a Dry Goods business that a first glimpse of his neat store is sufficient guarantee that he knows his business. He is a clever polite gentleman, full of appreciation for the large trade given him.

W. B. Groves has a nice Dry Goods business and for the next two weeks will offer special bargains to his customers. All kinds of Dry Goods and shoes at cost. You can do no better than to see him if you want to make your dollars last longest.

The Hill House, a popular $1.00 a day house on the bank of the Cumberland, under management of genial J. I. Hill, is always ready to receive and care for the famished traveler.

Mrs. Josie Reynolds is proprietor of the popular $2.00 a day hostelry and particularly requests the patronage of the drummers.

F. D. Ramage owns the Livery Barn and is a clever courteous gentleman.

Cassidy & Dewey are owners of the flower and grist mill and are popular as millers with a name for fair dealing that means much for their future. They are improving their mill for the new crop of wheat and deserve a liberal patronage for their pains and expense.

The Canning factory is owned and operated by Smith and Wells. It will now soon open operation for the season.

Clever L. E. Martin owns the ferry and for reliability and courteous treatment, has no equal on the Cumberland, from its source to its mouth.

Ed Henry is the proprietor of the blacksmith and repair shop and is counted the best horse shoer in the "pennyrile".

E. M. Dalton is the polite and very accommodating Postmaster and owner of a grocery and confectionery.

J. B. Wadlington is one of the contractors and builders of the town and is well employed all the time.

C. A. Hill is owner of a first class barber shop and is a popular artist. He is a true Kentucky gentleman and good friend to the old Record-Press.

The town has a nice City Hall and three churches and will soon vote the question of a Graded School, that, from all reports will carry overwhelmingly.

We were treated while there to the following list of new subscribers:

Ed Henry, Cassidy & Dewey, Dycus Bros., J. R. Padon, F. D. Ramage, C. H. Hill, Miss Laura Bosier, J. E. Bell, J. R. Holder, F. H. Glenn, Mrs. Josie Reynolds, J. B. Pope, C. H. Hill, E. T. Doom, J. I. Hill, I. F. Martin, W. A. Smith, J. W. Guess, J. D. Peek, E. J. Brashier, G. W. Travis, C. M. Tabor, J. W. Simpson, with J. C. Bennett, Yancey Bros., J. C. Griffin as renewals. Of course we received many other subscribers there where names appear in Fredonia list on account of the Rural Route.

Thank you gentlemen for the new list of subscribers and for the many kindnesses shown me while there. I appreciate them and will soon be with you again. I have arranged for news to be furnished from your good town regularly and in addition you to send me any news note of interest to yourself or friends, even if it be about your fine stock or your

MISSIONARY DAY AT OLD EMMAUS

One of the Largest Crowd Ever Congregated at the Noted Old Country Church,

Missionary day at old Emmaus church Sunday, June, 12th 1910. The day being a beautiful one the people began to pour in large numbers and the beautiful valley in which Emmaus church is situated in seemed to be alive with people and it was estimated that there were 800 people and every one seemed to be glad that they were there.

The hour arrived for service to begin and our beloved pastor Bro. W. R. Gibbs preached a splendid sermon on missions and he made it so plain and convincing the duties and the necessity of missions that when the call came for donations everybody seemed anxious to give something for the cause and beyond the expectations of every one there was $50.27 raised. In addition to the splendid sermon that Bro. Gibbs preached, the choir led by Bro. Geo. D. Kinsolving rendered some beautiful songs and they were very appropriate for the occasion.

The dinner hour came and when dinner was announced ready, well your scribe never witnessed such a bountiful supply of delicious eatables, and if any one went away hungry it was their own fault, for there was enough left to feed as many more as was there.

The afternoon services came on and Bro. Blackburn delivered one of his able sermons on the duties of the Deacons after which Bro. Geo. D. Kinsolving was ordained one of the deacons of Emmaus church. The Presbytery that assisted in the ordination consisted of Bro. Blackburn, Moderator, Bros. W. R. Gibbs, Franks, Albert Butler, Tom Davenport and Chas. W. Fox. Bro. Blackburn read the charge and Bro. Franks rendered a beautiful prayer after which Bro. Gibbs closed the services.

The meeting was a success in every particular and will long be remembered with pleasant recollections.

MEET HORRIBLE DEATH IN SHAFT

Newt. Millikin Falls in Fairview Shaft at Noon Last Tuesday.

N. Millikin, aged about thirty five years and single, fell to the bottom of the 260 shaft of the Lead and Fluor Spar mines at Fairview Tuesday and when picked up he was found to be mangled and bruised almost beyond recognition.

At noon or in the morning as some report have it, he was seen to walk toward the shaft and to all appearance walked in. His parents reside near Marion and he has several brothers in the county, all respectable people.

We were unable to get a correct report up to press hour.

crops and though it may smack of an advertisement, send it. The Record-Press wants you as a well satisfied subscriber and desires to be your friend. This invitation is extended to all of our subscribers everywhere.

MORGANFIELD AND MARION IN HOT GAME

The Visitors Put Up A Good Fight Winning Both Game By Score of 6-2 and 2-0

On last Thursday Morganfield visited our city for a game of ball and were engaged by our boys in what has been termed, one of the hottest games of the season. The score stood at close of ninth inning 6 to 2 in favor of the visitors. The second game was the greatest battle ever fought on a local diamond resulting in another victory for the visitors by the score of 2 to 0.

We failed to get a report of the games by innings in time for publication. Thanks to our young friend Gray Rochester for a report that we made an effort to get in, but failed. We were absent when the games were played and as no one reported to us we have done the best we could.

The visitors played a clean game and there is nothing for us, but regrets that we could not win instead of losing. However we have such confidence in our boys that with the same men pitted against each in the last game that we feel that we can beat them in an another engagement.
